“ Cynthia was my therapist, I was with her Thursday and Friday until 6:30 the week before her most unfortunate passing, and today I asked our local paper to find any information of her memorial or obituary because we had no information here in Pinehurst, where she touched the lives of many. The owner of local paper contacted me and shared her obituary, and I am forever grateful as I couldn't imagine someone so full of love and light could just vanish without a trace of her spirit. She was such a beautiful soul, full of love, life and faith. My world grew dimmer with her passing, but she instilled in me a strength in faith that I cannot deny. She told me once if anything happened to her, she knew where she'd go...she took a picture of a double rainbow and discussed her beliefs...she prayed over me, she shared the prayer she was listening to for 41 days - she was an inspiration. She was the real deal. She is so terribly missed, but I feel her spirit is at peace because she had the kind of faith that, I believe, could move mountains. The world is a little dimmer without her, but I know she wouldn't want us to feel this way...she knew where she was going, and without a doubt I believe she is looking down on us with her huge smile, enveloping hugs and infectious laugh. She both saved and changed my life, I could go on and on in an effort to keep this moment from being real. My thoughts and prayers are with her family, thank you for sharing her with us, she was a true angel.

“ Dear Sheila, I don't know you, but I knew Cynthia in Pinehurst. I am so sorry for your loss, she didn't deserve this. I don't know what y'all talked about, but I wish she had come go stay with you, too. I wish I had asked questions when I saw something in her eyes as she tried to relate to my issues with ptsd/alcohol in my marriage during our sessions. I wish so many things, but I know she's at peace because she told me she would be. Her faith could move mountains, and her heart touched so many. I'm grateful she had you to talk to, especially given she helped so many. The world grew a little dimmer, but I feel blessed to have been with her Thursday and Friday nights before her passing, where I walked out only to turn around, go back into her office, thank her for her help, hugged her tightly, rescheduled our next appt and listened to her laugh as we discussed pouring our water into the plant upon leaving. She was unique. She was exquisite. She was loved by all who knew her, and most of all she knew she was a child of God, and her faith carried her home. I miss her greatly, but know she wouldn't want us to be sad for too long, as she wouldn't want us to grieve her freed spirit...but I may have to disappoint her a tad, as I am deeply saddened, she was all light. I asked our local paper to help find any information on a memorial, as she didn't even have an obituary in our paper and although life is but a mist, I couldn't imagine her just vanishing. She lived a life of impact. The owner of our paper contacted me today, they found her obituary under her maiden name. I hate I missed the service, I would have walked there had I known, but I'm glad to know she's at peace. My thoughts and prayers are with you, her family and all those whose lives she touched. Xo
