

George W. Lyerly Jr.

March 20, 1976 - November 1, 2020

Dr. George William "Will" Lyerly, Jr., 44, of Conway, S.C. died Sunday, November 1, 2020 at Conway Medical Center following a lengthy battle with cancer. A devoted husband, father, son, professor, and friend, he loved fiercely, lived life with curiosity, and was strengthened daily by his faith in God.

Born March 20, 1976 in Lake City, S.C., Will was the son of George William Lyerly, Sr. and the late Martha Ruth Phipps Lyerly.

He is remembered with love by his wife of 12 years, Erin Farmer Lyerly and their children, Connor James Lyerly (8) and Caroline Ruth Lyerly (6); his father, George William Lyerly, Sr. of Lake City; and several aunts, uncles and cousins. He also shared a special relationship with his mother- and father-in-law, Judy and Jim Farmer; and his sister- and brother-in-law, Beth and Andy Lancaster, and their children, all of Spartanburg, S.C.

Will graduated from The Carolina Academy in Lake City, S.C. He attended Francis Marion University and completed his bachelor's and master's degrees in exercise science and a doctorate in exercise physiology at the University of South Carolina. As a doctoral student, he was mentored by and partnered for research with Dr. Steven Blair, Dr. Larry Durstine, and Dr. Gregory Hand. His passion for research and teaching led him to join the faculty of Coastal Carolina University in 2009, where he served as Associate Professor of Exercise and Sport Science and helped build the young program into one of the university's largest today. His colleagues became like family and the legacy he leaves includes scores of students he mentored throughout his 12-year career.

A Fellow of the American College of Sports Medicine, Will focused much of his career on research with a special interest in cardiovascular health and how physical activity affects individuals with chronic diseases. His work was published frequently in peer-reviewed journals.

Will was a devoted member of Kingston Presbyterian Church in Conway, where he served as a Deacon. He was an excellent cook, an avid Gamecock football fan, and a loyal friend who was always generous in helping others. Utilizing the skills he learned from his father, he was a "Jack of all Trades" who took pride in being self-sufficient in nearly every aspect of life. Unquestionably, his greatest joy was being a husband and father.

Over the last eight years, Will approached his cancer diagnosis with scientific curiosity, fierce determination, and positive spirit. His family is deeply grateful to the healthcare professionals at Emory University Hospital and Greenville Health System who supported his care.

A celebration of Will's life will be held for immediate family on Saturday, November 7, 2020. A public gathering will be announced at a later date. In lieu of flowers, memorials may be made to the Will Lyerly Memorial Fund for Student Research in Kinesiology at Coastal Carolina University or to Kingston Presbyterian Church.

Arrangements are with Goldfinch Funeral Home in Conway.

“ Erin, I am sorry for your loss. I am glad to have known him, and his joy for teaching led me to a career change. After a conversation with him in Burlington 5 years ago, I left 25 years in industry to teach in a local community college which has been a rewarding experience. We miss you and your family, and you are all in our prayers.

“ I had Dr. Lyerly as a professor at Coastal my senior year, and I can truly say that he made coming to class a great experience. I learned so much from him, and he was always a joy to listen to. He was one of my favorite professors at Coastal, and he will be missed greatly. My heart and prayers goes out to his family during this time.

“ So sorry for your loss. We always enjoyed waiving to George as we passed by your house. Always a friendly smile and a wave as we drove by as he tried to keep his kids playing nearby corralled into the drive way. Our deepest Sympathy. Bill and Beverley Hinson 128 Furman Circle.

“ Dear Erin, George and I have worked on papers while he was still a PhD student. I want to send my deep condolence to you and wish if there is anything I can do for you and the kids. You probably did not know that I lost my husband two years ago with two kids left with me now. I miss him everyday, but I want to assure you that all the darkness will pass and the love memory will stay with you. I am praying for you and may God with you and your family. Love, Mei from University of South Carolina.

“ Erin, I was heartbroken to learn the news about Will. I've known Will since kindergarten where I used to tease him that he stole my window seat on a class field trip on a train. Later on in high school we attended games, and watched a lot of movies together in our little group. Whether eating out at David's In Lake City or cruising around town in his big blue 4-Runner, it was always fun. In college I remember hearing him and Steve Cantey attempt to play guitar after a night out on the town—some nights were better than others. Even in adulthood, Will was always there to help. I reached out to him less than a year ago and even though we had not seen each other in years, he was ready and willing to support the project I was working on. He definitely loved you and his kids, he lit up when I asked about his family. He will be missed, but his memories will last forever. Thinking and praying for you all during this time. Sincerely, Rusty Gaskins

“ I am so sorry to hear this very sad news. He will be missed. He was a splendid graduate student and great Graduate Assistant. I felt very fortunate to have him in our group.

Steven Blair - November 06, 2020 at 02:27 PM

“ Thank you, Dr. Blair. I know Will admired you very much and enjoyed collaborating with you. I hope you are well.

“ I remember visiting with home when he was young. He had his first electric guitar and I gave him a lesson in some rock and roll stuff. His eyes lit up when I showed him some ChuckBerry and Hendrix stuff. He was a really nice person and I'm so sorry this has happened.

Roddey Phipps - November 06, 2020 at 09:12 AM

“ Thank you, Roddey. He told me what a great guitar player you were and how proud he was that you taught him a few things. He loved music, though he never mastered the guitar! Thank you for your kindness towards him.

“ The one memory that stands out was the night we first smoked a hog for the last game of the year. My brother almost blew us up and the pig rose 2 feet off the grill. Oh we were a bunch of wild and crazy guys!! Love you my friend and never ever will I forget you.

Stephen Lopez - November 05, 2020 at 06:09 PM

“ Thanks, Steve. He loved you and had so many good memories with you, and all the guys. Thanks for being such a good friend to us both.
