“ I have always enjoyed our conversations together at family functions and I know Joe had a big heart and lived life to the fullest. His three children are a testament to his character and moral compass. I know you will be missed by many and you are at peace with Our Lord and Savior!

“ Joe was my best friend during the early years of our marriages. When our wives spent their summers in the mountains we spent many hours together in Brooklyn keeping each other company. He always was a happy go lucky jovial person and had a way of making people laugh at his silly antics. I have fond memories of skiing in the mountains in the winter, playing golf together in Brooklyn & our cherished golf trips to Myrtle Beach that he loved so much and eventually settled there happily with Karen, the love of his life. Virginia & I even bought a Condo in Myrtle Beach so we could be together to play golf and spend many hours together laughing and playing Pinochle together with our friend Hal. I really miss those wonderful times. Joe, you were a good friend and I will miss you dearly. My only regret was that after we got older the physical distance between us prevented us from spending more time together. Joseph my dear friend, you will be sorely missed, perhaps, if there is a life after death, they will have a golf course there and we can pick up where we left off. Loved you like a brother my good friend. Good by until we meet again.

“ It has been almost 30 years, but some of my best memories are of the Crisalli household, the food, the family, the random trips to queens and Brooklyn with Shawn.

Karen, yoh and Joe were a very big part of me becoming a responsible adult. I cherish the memories of the house in Matawn, and grandma's house in Brooklyn. You all taught an Irish girl how to cook.

I love you, from the last time I saw you until this day and my last day.

“ My Darling Joe, For 45 years you made me laugh, put up with my moods, shared my joys and my sorrows. We were a team yet recognized each others individuality, likes and dislikes. You liked golf, I liked opera. You were interested in politics, I was a avid genealogist. I gardened, you ate what I grew and sat in the backyard and watched my flowers grow. But we both loved to travel and shared so many wonderful trips - both land and sea, and what fun you and I had! I am so glad you got to visit so many wonderful places with me and enjoyed so many great adventures together. You were a kind gentle soul and I know we will be together again some day for more journeys. Love you always.
