

Liam Hendrix Turner

April 19, 2021 - April 19, 2021

Although our precious baby boy, Liam Hendrix Turner's time on earth was far too short, he left behind a large family who will dearly miss him. In his moments with his proud parents, he grasped the hand of his loving mother and felt the undying love of his father Stevie Ray.

On April 19, 2021 he came into the world for a brief visit. Our little angel, Liam will always be a precious gift and best memory.

Surviving are his parents Kimberly and Stevie Ray Turner, siblings; Alyssa, Jazon and Kendall, grandmothers; Dian Curtis and Glenda Turner, uncle Kyle Curtis, numerous aunts and uncles, nephews; Kalique and Kingston Williams and a niece who is on the way and was excitedly awaiting her chance to meet her uncle.

Liam Hendrix Turner was preceded in death by grandfathers; Ellis Cain Turner and John Edward Curtis, and a niece Kehlani Ingraham.

A Celebration of Liam Hendrix Turner is planned with details to follow.

"An angel in the book of life wrote down Liam's birth, then whispered as she shut the book.... Just too beautiful for earth."

“ Sweet baby Liam Hendrix Turner, your auntie never got to hold you but I know you heard her crazy stories and laughs. Your momma and daddy are so proud to call you their son and I know you're watching over us all. Crazy Auntie JJ and Uncle Christian love you endlessly and will always speak your name with a smile. Until we meet, know you're loved and missed dearly.

“There must be Borrowed Angels, here in this life
They come along, into this world, and make this world bright. But they can't stay forever because they're heaven sent. And sometimes, heaven needs them back again.”

Love your forever Auntie,
Jaime
