“ She was my aunt, my mom's older sister and the one who my mom looked and acted the most like. I have so many memories I cherish. When I got married in 1972, my mom had just had back surgery, and she came from Toledo a few days early to make sure everything was perfect, just the way my mom (and I) wanted it. I will always remember her as beautiful, articulate, and talented.

“ She loved art, and taught me to appreciate classical and traditional styles. I think her strawberry rhubarb pie and deviled ham were perfect, and she could cook a steak to everyone's order. She had loss, but found love and adventure.

It was such a shame that she lost so many memories. But I will remember her as kind, pretty, and talented.
