“ i am so sad to hear about Pat's passing. I remember her as one of my volunteers when I worked for the hospital and she gave so freely of her time. She was loved by all.

“ My wife and I will miss Aunt Pat dearly. She was so much fun to visit with when she came to town. She was a great conversationalist who took a genuine interest in our personal and professional lives. She was so very proud of my cousin Scott and his family and she enjoyed sharing stories with us on everything going on in their lives. She kept us in the loop on all of my Uncle Jim's accomplishments as well and it was obvious she loved him dearly by not only what she said but how she said it. We will miss you dearly Aunt Pat and know that we only have fond and happy memories of you. I am sure grandma and grandpa are delighted to be reunited with you in heaven. We will look forward to seeing you again.

“ Pat was a friend and a ray of sunshine at our regular table at the Moveable Feast. She was always sharing: her latest book recommendation; a beloved visit to ArtFields; her son's latest visit or his family's forthcoming one. I am heartbroken that she is no longer with us and I will always remember her beautiful smile and bubbling personality.

“ My heart is saddened by the news of Pat's sudden death. She helped me with Hospitality at the Library. She was always the first to answer my emails when I requested bakers especially for the First Thursday programs. Her lemon cookies were a heavy favorite for those who attended the program. She baked them for the November program because she told me she would be having knee surgery soon and didn't know when she would be available anytime soon to do so again. She happily shared her recipe with me. And I wanted to tell her, the next time I saw her at the Friends' Center, how much I enjoyed the book she recommended to me. Pat will be greatly missed by all who knew her.
I regret that I will be out of town for her service.

“ Pat was a treasured volunteer for the Friends Center at the Waccamaw Library. Everyone that had the opportunity to work with Pat loved her. She was always the first to respond to any email I sent out with words of support and love. She will always be in my heart as a volunteer but more importantly as a Friends.
