“ Al you were my mentor and my friend. I remember fondly our trip to Germany in pursuit of advanced forging technology. I especially remember Düsseldorf and me teaching you the Royal Navy way to drink in a strange town. I am sorry you lost your expensive raincoat in some unknown bar but as always you handled it like the gentleman you always were. We miss you Al but I know you are there looking over us, leaning back in your chair, pulling on your pipe and chuckling at the absurdity of it all. I will never be able to repay you Alva for all you did to help and support me. But I will always remember.
