“ I remember us running thru the woods when we were little kids. That was before make-up and before we cared if we got dirty!!! I'm glad I ran into you recently and got to see your smiling face. Your family are in my thoughts.

“ I remember the 1st time dreading my Dr Appt at Dr King because I thought his nurse was rude until 1 day I came in and was greeted by Mandy almost 20 yrs ago. Her beautiful smile could turn an awful day into a great one. She and I became friends outside of work. She was the most kind hearted and loving soul that I was Blessed to call MY TRUE FRIEND. She was beautiful inside out.....All the health struggles she battled yet never complained and prayed for others instead. Then how much pain losing Victoria then Tyler that broke her heart yet She was so strong and relied on Faith to get her through. I told her she was immortal on her last FB post she made and am so glad I had the chance to tell her I loved her 1 more time even though she knew. Mandy died due to a damaged heart that was truly broken many years ago. I know she's now in HEAVEN. Holding her precious babies and no longer in pain. I love you and will miss you so much my friend. I will not say goodbye.....I will say see you next time whenever God calls me home. 🙏❤️

“ I am at a loss for words. Mandy was a beautiful soul and a warrior. My heart is broken even though I know Mandy's with her babies & everyone who has passed before her in this journey of life. She always had a big bright smile & strong positive attitude even when she was feeling down You all will be in my prayers, and may God fill you with His present and comfort in this time of need. 🙏💔

“ Sleep Sweetly Beautiful Girl. Your heart break ends now as you are reunited with Tyler and Victoria. No one can be saddened by this. There are many of us left behind that will grieve and now ache for your kind words and compassion on days we need it but will not find it. It is then that we will turn to one another in your absence and share our memories of you to comfort ourselves. Your healing is complete. You are whole. You are Blessed as you have been a blessing. My heart grieves for your family and your friends as I grieve with them but I celebrate you, your life and your return home. Sleep Sweetly.
