“ Amanda,

I miss you. I miss you so much. I can't stop crying. You've been my best and closest friend since we were 6 years old. Never once in 18 years did we let the many crazy things in life separate our friendship, and I am eternally grateful for that. I tried my best over the years to come visit you as much as I could. I will never forget all the amazing memories I have from childhood through adulthood; singing karaoke in my room, dressing up in random costumes and taking pictures/running around, going out for halloween, vacations together, swimming, softball games, sleepovers practically every weekend, watching horror movies, going to concerts in middle school, when I came to visit you in Myrtle Beach and Illinois after you moved. I remember how protective you were of me as a kid, always defending me when I was made fun of or had things thrown at me. I want so desperately for you to call me right now and go "Hey M&M!" like you've been doing since we were kids. So many memories racing through my mind, so many adventures I'll never forget. Wherever you are, I hope you know this: you were one of the strongest, beautiful, and amazing women I knew. You were an amazing mother, friend, and daughter. This is my promise to you; I promise I will never forget you, that I will be there for your family 100%, and that I will do everything in my power to help keep your memory alive not just to the world, but to your beautiful boys who deserve to know just how amazing you truly were. I love you, Amanda, and I hope that wherever you are, you're able to find the peace and happiness you deserve. <3

“ To the Speir Family:

When we lose someone we love, especially one so very, very young, it seems that time stands still. What moves through us is a silence; a quiet sadness, a longing for one more day, one more word, one more touch. We may not understand why, but little by little we begin to remember, not just that they died, but that they lived!! And that their life gave us memories too beautiful to forget. Hold tight to those memories....Lean on each other for support....And look to God's Word, the Bible, for comfort and strength. 1 Peter 5:7 encourages: "...throw all your anxiety upon Him, because He cares for you."

My deepest sympathy, SJB.

“ *To my beloved Amanda,
Your were a wonderful mother to your two boys,a freind,a beautiful person and most of all my daughter. No one can even begin to imagine the indiscribable pain and how much i am missing you already. I know you are in God's hands. He will love you and keep you safe until we can embrace and meet again. Amanda my beautifal daughter I will keep you in my heart forever. I love you so dearly and will miss you so much.
"REST IN PEACE"
love,
Mommy*
