“ My heart is so full of sadness for Andy and his family tonight. I just learned of his passing and can't express or imagine what you all are going through. I knew Andy when I attended Mercy High School me and my girlfriend Jamie Bryan would come to the house and all hangout.

I can remember one time we were all at Jamie's house and Andy went to leave and accidentally backed into my car. Ha. Worried that we were all going to get in trouble I told my mother that I was at the library and someone must have backed into my car. The three of us were all buddy's and would do anything for each other. I lost touch as we graduated but I always thought of him and wondered what he went on to accomplish. I know his smile and kind heart will be missed. My deepest condolences....

“ Where do I even begin....Andy was my first crush, first kiss, first boyfriend, first love, first break up and the first who turned me to country music! So many "firsts" that I will always cherish and remember. As I sit and reflect on our time together I remember our first kiss under the bleachers at the Walled Lake Central homecoming game, all the homecoming dances as my date, kissing his picture in my yearbook in 8th grade (actually found that picture today) holidays, pool games and movies in the Simbeck's basement, parties, St. Mary's fair, sneaking out to see each other in HS, remembering watching him playing basketball in the driveway, rides in the white mustang, getting butterflies every time I saw him at Edgewood hitting balls on the range or purposely wanting to get to junior golf earlier just so I would run into him, all the laughs and tears we shared to the last conversation I would ever have with him in 2009. Andy and I had our ups and downs over the years but always managed to make it back to each other in one way or another. I will never forget the time we shared together growing up. To the entire Simbeck family my heart is broken for you all and you all are in my thoughts and prayers today and everyday moving forward. May Andy Rest In Peace and I know that now that he is with God he is not struggling and playing a round of golf or shooting hoops. God bless you all and lots of love sent your way xoxo
