

Anna Kappes

August 30, 1926 - February 15, 2012

Anna Mae Kappes, 85, of Conway, South Carolina, died of cancer at home on Wednesday, February 15, 2012. Ann was born on August 30, 1926, in Waynesburg, PA, daughter of Albert and Cecil Day. She is survived by her husband, Albert James Kappes II; son, James Kappes III, his wife Gail; daughter, Bonita A. Pruum, her husband, Robert; and sister, Mary Jane Patton, and her husband, William; as well as six grandchildren and eleven great grandchildren.

After retiring from the Social Security Administration in 1981, Ann and husband Jim moved to Delaware to enjoy living close to the water. They also lived along the Gulf coast in Florida for many years before moving to the Myrtle Beach area in 2008 to be closer to their daughter.

Ann loved to take walks wherever she lived and made many friends along the way. She enjoyed working on jigsaw puzzles and watching the hummingbirds that seemed to find a home wherever she lived. Ann was an avid reader, often having a stack of five or six books from the library ready to be read.

At her request, there will be no funeral. In lieu of flowers, the family suggests memorials be made to Mercy Care, 8216 Devon Court, Myrtle Beach, SC 29572.
