“ I did not know you nor your family. I came across you picture on a Facebook site for addiction. I'm lighting this candle for you because I know you did not mean for this to happen. I know this because I'm in recovery. I once saw the light. I lite this candle in prayers to your family and prayers to you in heaven. I write this because many people do not know nor understand what it is like to lose a loved one to addiction until it's done. You are a beautiful girl and I pray you get to heaven and stay safe. I pray for your family. I pray for the 1'000's of people who over dose daily. Stay safe, stay blessed.

“ To the family of Ms Ashlyn Marie Cannon I would like to express my deepest condolences to you. Although I've never met Ashlyn my heart was extremely touched when I had learned of her passing and the agony I felt in wishing I was at work that evening and Perhaps I could've done something to Prevent a day of celebration for her life and death to occur. There are no words I can share that will give you instant healing to hearts that can only heal with time. Although she wasn't my child, she still carries a heavy burden on my heart because she was someone else's child who had a full life to live. I'm sad that the epidemic of drugs is so very powerful in today's society especially with our babies. I don't want Ashlyn's Birthday to be in vain and we must declare PEACE and change in the world to stop DRUGS from destroying our families. Today we will Honor Ms Ashlyn memory by taking a stand for what's right... Rest WELL my Beautiful Sister, you will never be forgotten. May God bless you with the strength you need to help you through this day and the ones to come. Love, Nikki Nichole Bass Royster and The WoodSprings Family.
