“ I met Hunter when I was at Hebron and we have been close ever since. He taught me how to duck hunt and we shared some great memories together! He helped me with landscaping projects and he was a wealth of knowledge. Truly a jack of all trades. He was so handy and always eager to lend a hand when I needed help! But his love for Christ was what bound us together in friendship. He spurred me on so many times with encouragement when he spoke about serving God and loving people. I am so blessed to know Hunter. EVERY conversation always ended with him saying, “love ya man”...His heart was so big. He is a brother in Christ. My prayers go out for his family and all who knew him. I am grieved and terribly saddened but I rejoice in knowing that Hunter Anderson is no doubt at home with the Lord Jesus, absent from the presence of sin, and in perfect peace experiencing the fullness of God’s endless glory! This is not goodbye...I will see you again soon brother. “Love ya man”

“ Hunter was such a polite, caring young man, always quick with a smile and a hug, and often offering help. He was a member of the same community group from Coastway as me, and I will always remember his cheesecake! Plus the leak in my sink he fixed a couple months ago, and the time he replaced the brakes on my old car. He will be missed, but we look forward to being reunited with him in eternity.

“ We are so sad to lose Hunter here with us. He was a special person whom we'd grown to enjoy through church. He was over to our house on many occasions to help with tasks and also as a friend to enjoy meals and conversation. We are praying for the family and those closest to him who no doubt expect many more happy and healthy years with him.

“ Hunter was a faithful friend, humble servant and fellow church member. He was one of the first to show up and last to leave church on Sundays, helping to ensure that our church was ready to help people feel welcome. When our family first moved to Conway 2 years ago, Hunter overheard that we needed mulch in our front yard. Next thing we know, he had showed up to provide and spread the mulch for us. We love you deeply and miss you dearly, Hunter.
