“ Aunt Blanche was a jewel. She loved God, her family, her friends, and if you talked to her that sweet personality came out and she made you feel so special. She and my mother were friends and I know they are together now with Aunt Dollie and the three are having a grand reunion! They were from what we call The Greatest Generation. They lived through the Depression and the two Wars. It shaped them into the strong women they were. Let us all strive to be more like them and live by their example.

“ I got to know Blanche when she was at Brightwater she always brought a smile to my face when she would talk about her "short, little legs". My thoughts and prayers are with her family during this difficult time.
