“ *It has been 50 years since I met Brenda. We met at Myrtle Beach Middle School in the 7th grade. Our mothers had grown up together. We were best buddies that summer. Though I have not seen her for a very long time,
I have often thought of her. So very sorry to learn of her passing.*

“ To all who knew Brenda, I share your loss, your sadness, and your hurt that she is gone. The only comfort I can share is that she is no longer in pain. I have to think there was a great reunion in heaven with Momma and Daddy and Brenda.

Brenda was a beautiful baby and always had a good heart. Momma used to say she was too cute and funny to spank when she did "misdeeds"! I still remember her in her Easter dress and hat, pink of course, just grinning at Momma to keep her from pinching her for something she did in church! She could make you laugh and really enjoyed our "Girl's night out" with Momma, her, and me. A stop in Georgetown on the way back from Charleston one night, when we went to the wrong house to deliver some Avon will always warm my heart. You really had to be there! We laughed until we cried! There were a lot of those good days and nights.

When we were both at home, Brenda would creep through our adjoining closet and get in bed with me when she was afraid.

These are just special things I remember.

She loved her husband, children, and grandchildren, and great-grandchildren with all her being. Bruce, her husband, was always a great and loyal friend and help-mate. She loved the flowers and trees he grew. She knew he had talent as a carpenter and anything she wanted, he would try to make for her. Thank you, Bruce, for being there for her.

Brenda loved cooking and feeding her family and others. She was an Awesome cook and cooked like our Grandmother Ruth.

Everyone was invited to the table, even if you just dropped in. She got that from our daddy.

So, with a heavy heart, I say goodbye to Brenda Elaine Brown Suggs, my only little sister. You will forever be a part of my heart.

Denise, I can't tell you how saddened we all are to hear of Brenda's passing. Mom (Jane) and Dave (Perkins) have been on the road all summer and without internet most of the time, so they do not know. They will be devastated when they hear the news. I have no doubt that they would want me to pass on their condolences for them in their absence. I will be sure to share your beautiful tribute to your beloved sister with them when they return. I really enjoyed reading it, and I smiled the entire time thinking of her. It couldn't have been more perfect. Please accept my heartfelt sympathy and prayers on behalf of our family to yours. Brenda was a very special lady who most definitely left her mark on this world before she left it, and she will be greatly missed. .

Warmest regards,
