My condolences to out to you for the loss of your beloved husband. Many years have gone by and I have long since moved out of the state, but we went to the same church as we we were growing up. While I was not real close to Byron, I was friends with one of his sisters and occasionally spent the time between Sunday morning service and Sunday night service at his parents home. May God's grace and comfort be sufficient for you and your family at this time. He will be missed by many.
