“ To the Houser Family:

In your sorrow, may there be peace....In your thoughts, may there be love....In your hearts, may there be healing. Psalm 147:3 promises: “He is healing the brokenhearted ones, and is binding up their painful spots.”

*My deepest sympathy,
SJB.*

“ Dear Caleb,

For years your father and I prayed and wished for you to come into our lives. All of the fertility tests and waiting were worth it when we found out we were going to be parents. Each ultrasound and milestone we reached made us so excited. Each time I felt you kick was amazing, like a tiny conversation between the two of us. As my belly grew, I loved feeling you respond to certain foods, noises, and situations. I never felt alone knowing that you were with me. I will miss reading to you and talking to you during our times alone. I wanted more than anything to meet you-to see you looking up at me and be able to take care of you. Recently, your daddy started getting things ready for you around the house. So many people gave us clothes and other gifts for your arrival. Even though I never got to feel your heartbeat or watch you as you slept, or hear you cry, you have changed my life forever. I never knew I could love someone so much. In the hospital I just wanted you to wake up so that I could take care of you. You will always be my baby, my little angel. I hope that you know how many lives you have touched and that you feel just how much you are loved. One day I will hold you again, but until then, please know that I will miss you every moment we are apart. “I’ll love you forever, I’ll like you for always, as long as I’m living my baby you’ll be.”

Love, Your Mommy

“ I am your family for life. I was there with you the day that Caleb came into this world, and I intend to be with you until I pass out of this world. I can't say I know how you are feeling, because I have not gone through what you are, but I do want to be there to help ease some of your pain a little bit for you. I love you, Justin, and Caleb. Caleb will be in our hearts and minds forever. He was your little angel here on earth for a very short time, but he is now one of God's little angels.
