“ When I think of Aunt Carol I think of a lady that was feisty and fun, despite difficult experiences in life and losses.

Aunt Carol's testimony:*

Her life is a testimony of God's provision in times of adversity.

A few years ago it looked as if she had lost everything.

God used different people to step forward and slowly her life was brought back together again.

I will only mention a few people that came to her aid. (There were so many people who stepped in to help)

The people in her church, Thee Baptist Worship Center, headed by Reverend Lamar Boulware.

Jeanette (now with her family in heaven) did so much; to name a few things; she provided carers, handled her finances, took her out to lunch and so much more.

When Aunt Carol needed someone with her full time Jim and Diane came to live and care for her.

Fun memories:*

She introduced the family to Myrtle Beach.

She loved to talk about her mother and father, I enjoyed listening to fun stories about them.

She always made a delicious upside down cake for her brother Tom.

She loved country music, we had a blast when, Aunt Carol, Beth (Aunt Carol's friend and sister-in-law) John and I traveled to Nashville together. I was surprised when she started sharing all sorts of facts about the singers. She cracked a lot of jokes, so fun. It was a trip that I will cherish.

I've always admitted when I was wrong, and I've never tried to hide it. Grandma and I talked about those mistakes, and in her own words, she forgave me and wanted me close. That forgiveness is something I'll always carry with me.

What's painful is knowing that while I'm being judged, others made choices too—choices that kept her own great-granddaughter from speaking with her, and choices about her belongings that don't reflect the love she deserved. Many who criticize me weren't here to truly see what was going on; they only heard bits and pieces.

Still, I will always be grateful that when it mattered most, I was called so Grandma could have closure and peace. That moment is what I hold onto.

Grandma, I don't have to tell you what's in my heart—you already know. I miss you deeply, and I'll love you forever. Please give my love to Dad, Aunt Judy, and Pop Pop. I love you more than words can say.

“ We'll always remember the happy times with Carol, her laugh that made everyone around her laugh, and especially the days of camping at the beach. There were so many good memories that will always make us smile. Our thoughts, prayers and love go out to her family and her special friends down south.
