“ Dearest Yvonne, I am so very sorry for the loss of your beloved Granma. She will live on through you, her spunky, beautiful, and loving granddaughter. “ Cecile was my Granma--in every sense of what a granma is thought to be. She helped to raise me & along with my beautiful mother taught me how to cook & sew & really to survive. Even at 86 I would take her to shop, or we'd sit in her garden, or just eat figs together. I was the favorite grandchild that always cut her hair or took her for rides in my convertible down the beach, her laughing, 'I'm CeCe, a young frenchwoman!!!' Today in an ironic twist I bury granma @ 91 yrs. old, preceded by my mama Mary Emily granma's only girl out of 8 who was only 57 & even more tragically, before her my beloved sister Yvette who lived to be only 23.###imported-begin###yvonne johnson###imported-end###
