“ Really sorry to hear about Chad. I have known him since childhood although lost touch past few years. Wish I would have made more of an effort to get in touch recently. I have fond memories of him scaring the crap out of me in his old Chevy on the way to class in high school. I had a lot of good times later with him and Amy. He always made me laugh and will be missed. My condolences to his family and friends.

“ Many years ago, Chad and I met, dated and were engaged. We shared wonderful times and a lot of great memories. We were not meant to get married and after our engagement ended, we lost touch. About a decade ago, I contacted Adam to reach out to Chad. Chad and I built a wonderful, unique friendship in the last 10 years. He was there for me sooooo many times. He gave me his point of view, his advice, his love, his support and his help so many times. As I have told a couple of you guys, he even hopped out of the shower to get to Winston and jump my dead car off when I was stuck and in a bind. I bought beers that evening. We had great dinners and times hanging out. I went to Smitty's last night for dinner to feel closer to him and be with people there who knew him and loved him too. I will never forget. Chad Mitchell will always have a piece of my heart and my life. Things for me will never be the same. I am trying to understand and comprehend what has happened. My head may eventually but my heart never will. Godspeed and RIP my dear, sweet friend. Love you always Chad Mitchell.

What a beautiful service. Thoughts and prayers to Karen, and Chad's family and friends. I did not know Chad, but he was much loved, and from what I heard at the service, just a genuinely nice guy

“ I was the first friend Chad made at the beach & I was so happy to introduce him to SSL & all our "family." We had many great times at SSL, TGI Fridays & cooking & partying at home. I loved arguing with him & trying desperately to prove him wrong. I will always miss him, his huge smile & sense of humor. He had the best hugs! Prayers & condolences to his family, Karen & many many friends. Fly high my friend & look over us from time to time.
