“ I'm a friend of Charles, long long ago we meant and soon became friends. I have and always will remember him until I also join him again. Life is that way and tho we go a different path the thoughts of each other were always there. One of the sadist moments in my life will always be to not be there now and see him one more time. To his loved ones and especially his wife I am so sorry for your loss, God bless you.

I will remember him until my death, a better friend no one could ask for.

“ To Charlotte, Truly our deep and heart-felt sympathy to you. God has blessed us with nearly 50 years of friendship with Charlie. We have known him thru college years and far too many work days at Security Trust and Pennwalt Pharmaceuticals and bowling teammates (including late night breakfasts) and our wedding celebration and visits to Florida and just sharing drinks and laughs over life's stories. He was smart, generous, easy going, humorous and loveable. So many wonderful memories come to mind we can not help but smile and shed a tear. We knew of his sorrow in missing his beloved sister and his joy in finding you to share life with. Even our 2 children remember his gracious hospitality on our family trips to Florida. Our hearts are broken and saddened but both Dick and I are most thankful for being a part of his life and having shared these 50 years with him. Our prayer is for God's watchful eye and comforting love to surround you and your family and Charlie's brother, John, at this time. Love always, Dick and Pat Killinger

“ I worked with Charlie at Aon Hewitt for three years; he was one of the first people that I got a pleasure to meet face to face. He always spoke about his grandchildren and looking forward to get off work to spend some time with them. He was a very humble man; I enjoyed working with him at Aon Hewitt supporting Duke this year. RIP Charlie!

“ *My Dear Friend Charlie ♡
Charlotte, I am so very, very sorry to learn today that Charlie was sick and passed away. When you two found each other, Charlie truly found joy.
Being friends with Charlie was a blessing, we shared a difficult time in each other's lives and I knew then that I would always carry him in my heart. He made me laugh, he was a confidant, loved to laugh, but the best thing about Charlie... he loved his family first* “ Charlie and I started working together at Aon Hewitt on the Bank of America implementation back in May of 2010. I really enjoyed getting to know him, both in and out of the office. Since we were both traveling we would often go out to dinner each night after a long day's work. We would share "war stories" about being at other places, and how much we enjoyed working with the people we worked with now. Charlie was a good co-worker, but an even better person. I really enjoyed the time we spent together - and we would often catch up as we moved along in our careers. I will miss him. Rest in peace, Charlie.

“ As I received the news today that my dear friend Charlie had passed it made me reflect on how he impacted my life....Charlie was my boss, my friend, my bowling buddy, and a person I looked up to for many years. He guided me along the career path that I work in today, we have shared many bowling stories good and bad, he was a dear friend to me for many years.....as I shed these tears while I think about him....he will be truly missed for sure. He was a GOOD man inside and out!

Love you dude!

To all who have commented on Charlie's passing, it is truly heartfelt. He is the love of my life and it will be difficult to go on without him. I so want him to be here to share with all of these great memories of him. I love him more than life itself.
