“ Anthony and Family: When someone loses a loved one who meant so much to them, it is hard to express sympathy and words of comfort. The pain you must be feeling now touches us deeply. Please know we are thinking of you and we care much more than we can find the words to express. May you find strength in the love of your family and friends that embrace you at this difficult time. Keeping you in my prayers. Brad & Kerri Brown: All American Climbers Tree Service
