“ Crystal, I am so sorry to hear about Your Son. My Heart go out to you. I know that this is a hard time for You and Your Family. I did not know Your Son, but I do know You and that makes Me know that He must have been a Special Person. I know that saying He is a Better Place, doesn't really help the pain of Him being gone right now, but I hope though that, after a while you can find comfort knowing that He is with God, Your Mom, Dad, and Other Members of Your Family that have gone before Him. I wish I knew what to say to help you with the lose that you are feeling. Know though that You and Your Family are in My Thoughts and My Prayers. Maybe He will get to meet My Dad. Again know that My Heart, My Thoughts and My Prayers are with You and Your Family.

“ I am shocked and heartbroken to learn that this phenomenal soul, lovable person and talented young man has been taken from all of us today. I cannot rationalize a reason, other than God has much better plans for Cody. I have known Cody for several years and had the great and special pleasure of watching this bright and talented young man perform in many high school show choir programs with my daughter and even escort my daughter, Madison, to her junior prom. With so much bad in this world, Cody always lit a lovable flame in everyone's heart, and he never met a person that did not take a little piece of his light with them. I know I have Cody looking over me tonight and I feel truly blessed to be comforted by that small piece of Cody's light within my heart. I love you Cody and will hold you in a special place. The little time my family and I were blessed by your light will never be forgotten and we will one day meet again. God bless you and your family, and may the pain felt by all, be out shined by that light you unselfishly gave to each of us.
