“ Mom,
You gave a good fight and now it is time to rest. You helped me become the woman . mother and wife I am today. From getting Dad to dress up as Santa each Christmas for the grandkids, to all the parties you hosted you will be missed dearly by all of us. Give a big hug to Dad, Liz and Lois.
Fly on wings of Angels till we meet again.

Yes, Gretchen...she was one of a kind..she gave us style and taught us to stand up for ourselves and be strong. She never complained and always found a way to get something done no matter the obstacles. Mom you were a rock and gave it all you had. Your fight is over, may you rest in peace. I love you and miss you!

“ I always told Connie that I was the kind, charming, lovable, sweet and humble Connie and she was the other one. Connie and I admired the same beautiful jewelery box at Belin yard sale one year. It was cherry wood with powder blue velvet inside; the drawers opened in two different directions. I wanted that box! She said it was going to be hers. I went to the yard sale at 7:00 am and guess what, it was gone. I think the wonderful volunteers who label and organize the donations bought it. I told Connie that I bought it and that she could put her jewels in my box anytime. I did not get the box, but I never really told her the truth; however, she never came over to put her jewels in it either. It was fun teasing her and it would have been fun for you to see two grown women "fighting" over a jewelry box. Connie was my jewel and I will ALWAYS treasure her. She will be so missed. RIP, Concetta! My sincere condolences to the Family. Connie Rose

“ Having been her son in law for nearly thirty years, I have so many fond memories of Connie. I'll always treasure the memories of those weekend barbeques at the house in Westhampton, when Bob would be grilling his heart out. She was always a gracious hostess and a woman who really knew how to entertain guests. I smile to myself at how she could never call her daughters by name - it was always "LisaGretchenTerri." But my favorite memories of Connie are from Christmastime, and the delight she took in her many grandchildren.

Rest in peace, Connie. I am glad your suffering is over; that you are reunited with your beloved husband Bob and daughter Lois. Vaya con Dios.
