“ Sea Again by John Mansfield I must go down to the seas again, to the lonely sea and the sky, And all I ask is a tall ship and a star to steer her by, And the wheel's kick and the wind's song and the white sail's shaking, And a grey mist on the sea's face and a grey dawn breaking. I must go down to the seas again, for the call of the running tide Is a wild call and a clear call that may not be denied; And all I ask is a windy day with the white clouds flying, And the flung spray and the blown spume and the sea-gulls crying. I must go down to the sea again to the vagrant gypsy life, To the gull's way and the whale's way, where the wind's like a whetted knife; And all I ask is a merry yarn from a laughing fellow rover, And quiet sleep and a sweet dream when the long trick's over. I will miss you and I am thankful that I was your friend --till we meet again--

“ It is quite a shock to sit down to read the paper and discover that you have lost a friend. The obituary section is not a section of the newspaper that I normally look at , but for some reason I did today. I am sad now but in the coming days I will come to realize that Dave is in a better place. No doubt he is in Heaven with his Lord and Savior, standing a watch to help others get into heaven; the way he helped others while he walked among us. God bless you Dave and your Family and the friends that you touched. Thank you for all that you did for us and all that you stood for on earth. MT##imported-begin##Mark Thompson##imported-end##
