“ *Dear Debby,
I miss you so much. I miss getting together with you on Facebook, I miss seeing your posts about the pups and what you were eating at midnight. It was nice not to be eating alone! You pop up in my Facebook memories every single day. My heartfelt sympathies to your family and friends. Sending love and hope we meet again.
All love,

“ Dear sweet Debby. Rest now in peace. I am so glad I got to know you at good old PV and lucky enough to reconnect with you again at our 40th class reunion. You always were such a kind, sweet girl. Our loss here is heaven's gain. To Rich, her sons, sister Sandy, and of course her beloved Wilson and Gino, I give to you my deepest sympathies. I will never forget you Debby.

With love,

“ My friend and "sista" you surely will be missed. We were miles apart but always in each others hearts. I am going to miss you, our late night talks, our plans for the future. You taught me what true friendship was. I'm glad I got the chance to surprise you for your 60th. I now have my own guardian angel to watch over me in the coming months. Rest in peace my friend till we met again. Xoxo Love Debbie

“ Dearest Debbie, family and friends of Debbie's. She is, as you all are, in my heart and mind. Such a special spirit. I was a lucky person to have had her in my life both during high school and much later in life. My own personal belief is that when people depart they then become part of All That There Is. How fortunate the world is to have her be part of everything. With heartfelt condolences...❤️

Peace, Love, Blessings and Grace.
