“ I am fortunate and unbelievably thankful to have crossed paths with a gentleman who has touched my heart and soul on a level that I will forever carry with me. I have had the utmost respect and admiration for him. He is one of the smartest men I know. He is a righteous, kind and honest being with high morals, standards, character and principles. He is passionate about so many things and a man who stands up for what he believes in and advocates for those who can't advocate for themselves. He is a proud man who loves and adores his family. He is a man who will go to great lengths to help all those in his circle and then some. I have had the privilege of calling this man my client and friend for over a decade. Every 3 to 4 weeks in my hands for 1.5 hours has been every bit of awesome. We have talked about big stuff, small stuff, the good stuff, the bad stuff and the ugly stuff. We have laughed and cried, we have tried to solve all the worlds problems and issues in 1.5 hours.

Unfortunately, my friend, my Tuesday 12pm every 3-4 weeks guy will no longer be in my hands. His journey home to a higher place is near. I will miss my friend so incredibly much. I am sad beyond words for everyone in his life and all the lives he has touched with love, compassion and kindness. My heart is heavy for his beautiful wife, his children and his family and friends. All who truly know him...know how lucky they are to have him in their lives. I know I am. Rest easy Doc. You are one in a million and I am lucky to have the opportunity and pleasure of calling you my friend!

Dick had a giant heart, big enough for Sue, and for his kids, but also for no end of causes and charities. He gave his time and expertise generously, to so many people, and he'll be missed. He took a lot from life, but always, he gave a lot back.

A grey morning today in WV. We are mourning the loss of our University of Charleston classmate and good friend Dickran. Our years together in WV were short but the friendship is now eternal. God speed brother.

Dr. Mgrdechian:

You have come in my dream twice and I was wondering why, so I decided to look you up and saw the sad news. You were so special in all your staff hearts, we worked together at Deer Park Medical, PC and I could say working with you for 10 years you were one of the most kind, respectful, strict (LOL) and most of all honest man. You always treated your staff with the up most respect. You we always in my heart as part family to me. My deepest condolences to Susan and your children. May God bless you always.

Love Wanda Rosado
