“ I would like to extend my deepest sympathies to the family of Dilicia Lavigne. I especially want Delores and Scott to know that God's word the Bible can offer you hope and comfort during this most tragic time in your lives. In the Bible, God has promised a resurrection to all those who have gone to "sleep" in death. Wise King Solomon observed that the livings are conscious that they will die, he wrote: "as for the dead, they are conscious of nothing at all.? This is a very comforting truth. We know from the Bible that Dilicia is asleep in death. She no longer is experiencing any pain and suffering. Jesus promised that just as someone asleep can be woken up, an individual asleep in death can be awoken up too. When he learned of the death of his dear friend Lazarus, Jesus told his disciples, "Lazarus our friend has gone to rest." The disciples thought that Jesus meant that Lazarus was resting in sleep, recovering from an illness. They were wrong. Jesus explained, "Lazarus has died." John 11:11-14 Notice Jesus compared death to a rest and sleep. He was at rest in death, as though in a deep sleep without dreams. Other scriptures also compare death to sleep. For example, when the disciple Stephen was stoned to death, the bible says that he "fell asleep." Acts 7:60 Similarly, the apostle Paul wrote about some in his day who had "fallen asleep" in death. 1 Corinthians 15:6 This is a very comforting truth. Jesus promised us the hope of the resurrection. He told us at John 5:28,29,? Do not marvel at this for the hour is coming when all those in the memorial tombs will hear my voice and come out.? He performed a number of resurrections when he was here on earth. He did this to give us confidence in this promise. His own resurrection guarantees that this will take place. Though you are experiencing great pain and sorrow, I do hope that these thoughts from God?s Word the Bible will give you a measure of comfort at this time. There will come a day when Dilicia will be resurrected. She will be well and will be able to enjoy her friends and family again.Revelation 21:4 Imagine the joy you will have when that day comes. It will come because ?God cannot lie.?Hebrews 6:18 My thoughts and prayers are with you and your family.##imported-begin##Suzanne Lombardo##imported-end##

“ To Delicia's family I wish you fond memories that will keep Delicia in your lives forever. She was so very fortunate to have such a loving family. Having lost someone myself helps me to understand the grief and sadness you must be feeling. My thoughts are with you at this time. She was a blessing in your life and enriched every day of your lives....remember the good times, her laugh and her happiness. Scott, I know she is etched in your heart forever...she is at peace.
