“ Little Walt, Mark, Matt and family:
Heaven is shining down on us. I can feel the light. Aunt Donna will have the best birthday ever! We sure will miss her, but we will be together again. This is just our temporary home.
May God comfort you and console you. Donna is happy now.
She wouldn't want us to be sad. I can hear her telling me don't cry, you'll just get your shirt wet. I love you all with all my heart.
Sorry I can't be there. You are in my thoughts and prayers.
With deepest sympathy, Debbie

“ My father, William Gery Smith's only sister was born on his tenth birthday, June 25, 1955. He once told me that Donna was the best birthday present that he ever got, maybe that's why he has always slipped and called me "Donna". Although it has been many years since they have actually celebrated their shared birthday, Aunt Donna has and always will be remembered on their day. We should be comforted knowing that Donna has been reunited with Papaw, Mamaw, Uncle Walter and their sister Barbara, who passed as a baby in 1940. Rest in Peace, Aunt Donna.
