“ When I was young and Aunt Donna was smoking I asked her what it was like to smoke and she said would you like to try one I said sure . She gave me a cigarette and told me to inhale. I inhaled just a little bit and she said no no no you need to take a big inhale of the cigarette. So I took a really big one and I started to cough and choke and turned green and got sick . She laughed at me and said would you like some more and I said no I'm fine . She thought it was really funny . And I remember spending all the holidays at grandma and grandpas with her and my cousins there and we played and I remember her laugh . She was always laughing and smiling and just shaking her head. She came to town a few times and came to a our party's and she went to Deer Park with me and my dad and had a few beers and everybody there talked with us and we had a good time that night . The last time she came we went out to karaoke at Wrigley Field and we had a great time and she loved the pull up tabs. She always won a lot of money don't know how she did it . Really going to miss her. Love you Aunt Donna.
