“...For the Lord sees not as man sees; for man looks at the outward appearance, but the Lord looks at the heart.” 1 Samuel 16:7

There are many positive attributes that Donna will be remembered for. She was positive, driven, caring, always had a smile and laugh to share, supportive, and most of all, selfless. For me, two of her qualities stood out among the rest; character and perseverance. I am reminded of a quote that states "Character is who you are under pressure, not who you are when everything's fine." Donna had a tremendous amount of good character despite the many obstacles and challenges she faced in her daily life. Not only did she have the courage and strength to face these challenges, but she faced them with positivity and determination.

She selflessly gave up many months of her life to help out me and my family during our time of need when my mother was diagnosed and receiving treatment for leukemia. At our weakest hour, Donna was our rock. Many times when we didn't have the mental and emotional strength to continue daily tasks and to "just keep swimming" as Dory from "Finding Nemo" would say, Donna would support and remind us that we could keep going, and that would we should persist and live. It's from her that I learned life isn't always fair, it's full of challenges, trials and disappointments; but these thorns in our side create character. No matter what hand we are dealt in this life, we must keep going, we must keep living.

Donna fought the good fight and she finished the race.

“ My hero, Aunt Donna!

From an early age, I admired her will to live. She chose to not allow her medical conditions to define her. She was a fighter. She loved others. She gave endlessly. She laughed even if she was in pain. She shared her talents (playing the piano and baking, to name a few). And she never gave up on family, regardless of how things looked or felt.

My hero, Aunt Donna!

She was a true role model. She taught me countless life lessons. No matter how big or small, it was the quality of time and the wisdom imparted that mattered. I remember her constantly trying to get me to improve my penmanship. Unfortunately, I failed her miserably. As an adult, I moved out of state and would send her cards and letters. Most times she would have to call me and ask me to interpret my handwriting. Looking back, I can't help but think that at times I probably intentionally wrote poorly so that I could hear her voice and laugh again.

My hero, Aunt Donna!

Our relationship was unique and special. We were very close early on. Sometimes she would hear my “secrets” before mom would. Or, I would seek her guidance on something that I was going through as a young child and even as an adult. She had a calming, logical way of responding. Don't get me wrong, she was a disciplinarian too! lol I would not be the person that I am today, had it not been for this relationship!

My hero, Aunt Donna!

The first time my boys, Christian and Cameron, met her they were in awe of her determination and quite spirit. It is a continued reminder for them that no matter what life hands you, it's your choices that matter!

My hero, Aunt Donna!

She is no longer suffering. She is no longer in pain. For this I am truly grateful. Although my heart is shattered, I find peace knowing you are going home to our Father, who is saying "...Well done, good and faithful servant!..."

We love you and you will forever be in our hearts!

“ There will never be another Donna. Her love for family and friends knew no end. If you asked Donna for a favor; she always responded, "No problem."

She may have had a weak spine, but God gave her a strong backbone. She was small but had an enormous heart. Laughter was her best medicine. Donna always had time for those she loved. She knew she was tremendously loved.

Don, Beth and I will never forget her generosity to our family. She placed us first before herself. We will continue to thank God for Donna's life. She had a true servant's heart for Christ.

We will see you in Heaven.
