“The memories are so many, where would I even start? My earliest would have to be you giving me my way when my parents wouldn't; isn't that the way it's supposed to be? I tagged along with you and granddaddy everywhere. I don't think your car ever left the driveway without me in it until I was about 14. I cried so hard at daycare when I was 3 that I got kicked out (yes, kicked out of daycare) and had to go to work with you. Spoiled isn't even the word to use. I spent as much time at your house as I did my own. From shelling butter beans, to going to wrestling matches, to helping chase chickens that became dinner I did it all with you and papa.

Your sense of humor was second to none. Or was it a sense of humor at all? I think a better description could be “bluntness.” If there ever was anyone that called it as you saw it and never sugar coated anything, you were it. On that note, I just got a message from D.J. passing on his condolences, which immediately made me think about you and Mrs. Darnell. Hold on Heaven The Dynamic Duo are back together. If there is a Wal-Mart in Heaven, they got something in store for them. I know y'all two are gonna be causing some trouble up there; the good Lord will have to set you two straight!!!

Although my career took me away from your house and arms, you were and are forever in my heart. They may be too young to understand now, but my girls will know all about you and how you helped mold who I've become.

They say a grandmother's love is irreplaceable; I'm here to say they're right. Nothing could ever take the memories we made away; nothing. Although the circumstances have been so difficult, we all know you're in heaven with Papa and you'll always be watching over us. I know you know how much I love you and our memories will always be in my heart. Rest easy, you will always live through us!

“ Our prayers and condolences are with the whole family. Jim and Lynne, Ben, Jessica, we know how much she meant to all of you. Know you are in our thoughts and prayers, and that we love all of you. The best part of this is knowing she is now with Jesus, and all her family and friends in Heaven. We love and miss you. Bob, Roxanna, Lyn.

“ *Randy,
We are so sorry for the loss of your Grandmother. I always loved seeing her at the salon. She was always so funny and spunky.
Sending love your way,

“ The world lost a one of kind woman when Aunt Doris went home to be with the Lord. She was truly a Proverbs 31 woman. She was a hardworking woman who offered hospitality to all. She honored God and was an example to her children & grandchildren. She was plain spoken and said what she meant & meant what she said! If anyone ever left her house hungry, it was their own fault because she had prepared delicious food.

I remember when Uncle James was dating Aunt Doris, he had an old car that he had to park on an incline to get it going. He would ask us, children, to help push him off & we did. I was probably 4 or 5 years old! Once, he asked my Daddy if he could borrow his car to go see Aunt Doris. My Dad said, "sure you can but you have to take the girls with you!" I was about 4, Margie was 2 and Linda was 6. We went on his date that night but he didn't care as long as he could see his Honey! They loved each other until death parted them.

I wish it were possible to give you a hug Debbie, Rhonda, Jim & Randy but it is not possible in these circumstances. I never knew how much I would miss hugs! The entire Baxley family is in my thoughts & prayers. We are a family of strong faith and God will see us through this time of sorrow & loss. I love all of you.

*Our Aunt Doris will be missed by many people. She has touched our lives with her love. I love the memories of her singing and rocking babies, always cooking for there was many a mouth to feed including mine. She was soft spoken but we knew to mind her. Looking forward to the reunion we will have in glory one day. Love and condolences to our grieving family. Love each of you

“ Who didn't love aunt Doris?. A kind and loving soul, with a sense of humor tossed in. She was the salt of the earth. I always felt welcomed at her house, and like Jimmy said, didn't matter how many showed up at supper time, somehow aunt Doris always managed to feed all us. I don't think she or uncle James ever knew a stranger, and always said "come to see us" and meant it, when you talked to them. Know I am proud to call all of you guys family.

My heart felt condolences to Debbie, Rhonda, Jimmy, Randy and your families, as you already know you had a great momma. She's probably waiting on that Pepsi cola in heaven right now, cause JW and James are fishing, but oh what a reunion she has had. We can only imagine.

I cannot be there with you, but know my heart and many prayers are there,

God Bless,

“ I never had the pleasure of meeting Mrs. Bailey, however I have been friends with her Grandson Randy for many years. I feel that I have gotten to know Mrs. Baxley over the years from the wonderful stories that Randy and Tammie would share with me about her at the salon. The tremendous love and respect that Randy and Tammie had for her always filled my heart with great joy, and I know that she will be missed beyond what words could ever express. The incredible mark that she left on those who knew and loved her is without a doubt a testament of a full and beautiful life well lived. I offer my heartfelt condolences and prayers to my friends Randy, Tammie and the rest of Mrs. Baxley's family and loved ones. Sending love and wishing each and every one of you peace during this difficult time as you remember and mourn the loss of a very great lady.

Warmest regards,

“ We know how much Doris loved her family and how much her family loved her. We will miss her. Hoyt remembers how much she enjoyed a Pepsi and said when Doris gets to heaven and sees James he can hear her say say "James, did you bring me a Pepsi?!" He remembers going with James to visit Doris when they were young and the Pepsi greeting stuck in his mind. We love all of you and look forward to seeing everyone at the next family reunion. In the meantime, take care of each other.
Love, Aunt Wren and Uncle Hoyt Baxley

“ She fought hard for two weeks and decided herself she was just too tired. She was ready to see her Lord and Savior, loved ones that went before her, and walk the streets of gold. She loved her family and could whip up dinner in a flash and there was always enough to feed whoever came through the door. When she wasn't cooking she loved to shop, plant flowers and rake leaves. Our momma loved to rake. It was just a month or so ago we gave her a brand new wheel barrow. She loved it and was very excited! If she wanted to know about something, there was no holding her back, she would ask right there and then. And it didn't always come out in a whisper. The people closest to her will exactly what we mean! She will be missed by many, especially her family. We love you❤️! Jimmy and Lynne
