“ King James Version Re 21:4 And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away. I hope the thought of the scripture can bring some comfort to a difficult time that you all face with your loss. It can be hard to cope with losing a loved one. When I was faced with this I read a brochure that explained the different stages of grief and had so much wonderful information in it. This brochure proved invaluable to me at that time. It is entitled " When Someone You Love Dies". If you would like a copy or copies I would be more than happy to send them to you. Please contact me at bigfred1985@yahoo.com. Again I am very sorry for your loss.

“ To All the Family,
There are no words to describe your loss. Our hearts break for all of you. Wade and I were talking about Eddie and what a good person he was. We certainly know the pain of losing a son and Tammy I feel your pain as I lost my only brother as well. We wanted to come to Eddie's memorial service but I just couldn't be there. It was too close to home for me and not wanting to seem selfish we thought we would just come to visit you one day soon. Know though that our prayers have been with you night and day. I pray that God will pour out a comfort around all of you and help you work through the grief. Time does help to deal with it, but the loss of a child I think you learn to live with it while here on earth. The great news is that we will pass on to a place where the sadness will be no more and there will be Eddie waiting to greet you all! We love you all and will continue to pray for you.

My dearest Eddie...over 20 years of friendship is not something that everyone can say they've had with someone. You had such a huge impact on my life and no one can even come close to saying that. I look forward to seeing you in heaven one day and reminiscing the old days like we always do. I love you with all my heart and I hope you've found the peace you've been searching for all along! Love you, Jeanne
