“ I was Eileen's art teacher and a good friend. She was a quiet person who's presence always made you feel good. She spoke softly but her words were words of wisdom and peace. She was a beautiful person and she came to every art class in a good mood. She cared deeply about other people. She was a great artist and we talked together many times about her illness. In her pain she still smiled and carried on as if nothing was wrong. I and my other art students will miss her very much. May God bless her family with peace and joy knowing she is waiting for them in a special place. ”
