“ Five years later and I still remember the perseverance with which this beautiful young woman went after each day despite most days not feeling well. Too early to go but the good news is that she gets to the gates of heaven faster than the rest of us. Mr. Schulte of Early College High School.

“ I remember the first conversation I ever had with Emilee. She had just started as a freshman at Early College and told me she was going to be a doctor--inspired by those who had helped her when she was younger. I remember thinking how strong and determined she was for one so tiny and just beginning in high school. She worked hard and kept a beautiful, optimistic outlook always. I know she will continue to inspire us. Prayers and love for all family and friends of this sweet young woman.

“ I remember visiting Emilee when she was fighting cancer at Richland Memorial Hospital many times. My daughter, Jessica came with me. Emilee was 6 and Jessica was 4 when Emilee first was diagnosed with leukemia. Jessica liked to go and visit her. She was too young to really comprehend what was happening, but the two of them did not worry about it. They just played, as children do and it was beautiful to see. Emilee was such a vibrant, strong child and she fought so hard to overcome her many health issues. I am proud to have known her. She will be terribly missed. Terri and Ricky, I send my love to you. Please know that I will keep you in my prayers. You two were wonderful parents and you gave your daughter the beautiful gift of loving her completely and being there for her when she needed you most. Your cousin and friend, Debbie Jones
