“ My cousin, Ernie, was a good man who always took care of those he loved. We were related on both his and my paternal and maternal sides. We are cousins twice over. He had all the wonderful qualities of my farther who preceded him in death this month. 25 years ago.

Ernie always let me stay in his guest room, in Springfield, Virginia, when I needed to transition between post college apartment leases. I never knew how I could make this up to him. Nobody I have ever known took physical care of disabled family like Ernie. It started with his brother of the same name and continued for the rest of Ernie's life when those he loved most needed him.

I was so happy to speak with him by phone only days before we lost him. I didn't know this would be the last time we would speak. Even when you see the end coming, it never diminishes the pain of losing someone you love. Rick, Maurice and all of us who knew him will always retain indelible recollections of his thoughtful kindnesses.

May his memory be a blessing.
