“ Dear Gwen & Family, I just wanted to let you know that you all are in my prayers daily. I think about you a lot. I know you feel lost, but just think, Ernest is in a much better place than we are and he is whole again. He is up there in heaven, walking around, meeting everyone, talking about who knows what. Maybe going fishing. Maybe I can get to see you one day soon. My thoughts and prayers are with you. Love you, Dianne Blackburn LPN, Mercy Hospice. Take Care.!!!##imported-begin##Dianne Blackburn##imported-end##

“ Gwyn I'm so saddened to hear of Ernest's passing. I was unaware of his struggles. I fondly remember the times we spent together. I always enjoyed being around him. Unfortunately, as we move around we lose track of those folks in our lives that gave us joy and Ernest of one of those folks.##imported-begin##Mike Jordan##imported-end##

“ Just last week I was sharing the brochure from MERCY Hospise with our church secretary. I shared with her about the Eargel family and having attended school with the Porter children. I am grateful for the witness of Earnest and your family during these difficult times and know that how we respond as Christians during difficult times is as affective a witness one might have. I am grateful for the witness of your entire family. Sorry, I just learned of this on May 5 or else would have responded in a more supportive way. Gods strength to you all!###imported-begin##Larry Allen##imported-end##

“ Dear Gwen and family, I feel so blessed to have known Ernest. His testimony is one we should all strive to obtain. His faith through this dreaded disease never ceased to amaze me. I left his funeral, the one he planned, feeling proud to have known him. The 4 F's faith, family, friends, and the future were all addressed and evident in what the clergy said, the video showed, by the number of friends there, by your loving family, etc., etc. Ernest did live "the dash" to the fullest and wanted to make sure everyone else lived their lives in a way which assured their eternity with Jesus! My thoughts and prayers will continue to be with you through the days ahead. Cherish the loving memories!!!

“ I know this is a hard time for all right now and I wish I could hug the hurt away. Having Ernest as a brother in Christ is a blessing I will always be grateful for. He touched my heart in so many ways by simply 'being' there sometimes, I could look out and see him and think how God uses the weak to convict the strong. But he was also one of the strongest men I have ever met. He makes me want to be better and I like who I am because I knew him. Thank you God for Ernest.##imported-begin##Pamela Clark##imported-end##

“ Mr & Mrs. Porter - My condolences in the loss of your wonderful son. Gwen, my heart goes out to you for standing by your man through sickness and in health. I lost my husband, Bill Hughes, when he was only 55. We never know what tomorrow will bring. We can only live through it one day at a time. Jessica & Josh and your families, I am so sorry that you have lost your father and grandfather. I pray that God will give you strength and help heal your broken hearts. I know that all of you have suffered with broken hearts as you watched him suffer. Having been your next door neighbor, I remember Jessica & Josh as young children. I'm not sure that I would recognize them today. I have fond memories of Ernest. Before Ernest got sick, I remember how thoughtful he always was and how he would always come over to help with yard work whenever he saw Bill struggling to saw a fallen tree, etc. My love and prayers go out to all of you and also to those who have lost their brother and friend. Ernest is a man worthy of remembrance##imported-begin##Linda Hughes DeLuca##imported-end##
