“ Mrs Johnson, I just want you to know that heaven is certainly a better place since Mr Johnson arrived. When I was about 15 in 1975, I had a summer job at Cain’s BBQ (later, Goody’s Flapjacks) in Myrtle Beach. Mr Johnson was our “bread man”. He was always so kind and friendly to all of us. Mr Johnson would leave me a bag of Sweet Sixteen doughnuts about once a week because that was my favorite snack! He continued to do this every summer when I came back to work until I married in 1980. A total stranger made me feel special and I’ve never forgotten that feeling. I’ve tried to live my life doing little acts of kindness for others. I am blessed because I knew Mr Johnson!
