“ We could always count on Mama Strickland to tell us exactly how she felt. "I can't tell you how to cook," she'd say if you asked her a recipe. Her love for Emmett can't be overstated, and she took good care of him until he passed away just a few short years ago. She could be feisty at times, but always with good humor and a sparkle in her eye. Besides her wit and humor, I will miss her elaborate holiday dinners at family gatherings, her interaction with her children and grandchild whom she so dearly loved, and the sweet potatoes or strawberries she so enjoyed picking from the field to share.

“ I only met this beautiful person once and I learned about all the love she had for her family. She will be sadly missed but God will get you thru this most difficult time. Stay strong and remember all the good times because that is what she would want. She will be smiling down on you while she holds hands with the love of her life Mr. Emmett. Thoughts and prayers with all of you.
