“ I am the younger brother, Bobby Chandler. I called my big brother "Bo," and he called me the same, most of the time, for many years. This was due to my taking the name of a hobby horse I had which was named Bo-Bo and telling my big brother that we were both going to take half of its name. As a result, many others called him Bo, as well. Even my children called him Uncle Bo. He was very special to me, spending his time and money on me, even though we were thirteen years apart, and he was largely out of the house by the time I was five. He bought me my first BB gun, taught me how to hold a baseball bat, and shared his golf clubs with me, triggering a lifelong love of the game. Life largely got in the way, as we were often apart, but recently, we reconnected and spent more time talking and getting to know one another better than in my developmental years. I am so glad that I was able to spend time with him and our two other siblings, Brenda Player and Angie Street in New Mexico in 2022 and again with him and his son, Mark, in October of last year, since it had begun to be too difficult for him to travel. I will always remember his sense of humor, quick wit, love of music, and his continual quotations from Gus and Woodrow in his favorite mini-series, "Lonesome Dove."
