“ Greg was an integral part of the band of inseparable friends from my son Rich's growing up years and on into adulthood. I remember Greg as handsome, smart, fun-loving and always loyal. His untimely death fills me with shock and heartache for his wife Amanda, his daughter Landen, and his parents Al and Ruth. May you take comfort in knowing that Greg rests in peace with God.

“ Amanda and family,
Greg and I have known each other professionally for a number of years. Starting with his time with Centex and more recently while doing work for him through GH Home Builders, I have known him to be a conscientious builder, a good client, and a friend. I'll miss our mutual discussions as well as his understanding and support regarding the challenges facing builders and construction trades during the last few years. My prayers, thoughts, and sympathies go out to all of you.

“ Hi Amanda, We met Greg several times in May and June while visiting our Condo in Myrtle Beach where he was replacing our balcony. Being from Dayton, Ohio and specifically Vandalia, and also a UD Flyer fan, we had several interesting and nostalgic conversations. We also discussed the frustrations with the job and I tried to encourage him that it could only get better. Our sympathies go out to you and your family for your loss too soon. Gary & Susie Keithley
