“ The first Senior Chief I ever knew, and someone who set the bar high for the many others who would follow! Senior Chief Connor was a great mentor to me and others during my 4 years at the NJROTC unit. He was the first to tell me about the Naval Academy. His lessons will live on in my son who may follow in the finest traditions of our US Navy. Fair Winds, and Following Seas Senior, You will be remembered by us all.

“ Chief, too many stories over too many years. You were a mentor to a young Army Officer and you didn't even know it. I can't begin to thank you for the time and wisdom you gave to me. From the time I was a brand new Platoon Leader until long after I had commanded my Armor Company, you were there in one way or another. Whether through a smoke and a cup of coffee, or just a "hey! how are you." To the Connor Family.. Thank you so much for sharing your Father, Husband, Grandfather, and Great Grandfather with me and many like me. I cannot ever begin to repay what you and he have given. God bless you all.

Senior Chief Departing. Go with God Senior Chief.

“ It has been 17 years since I graduated from Conway High, but I always remember my JROTC days with Senior Chief. He loved his coffee, his car at that time and his cigarettes. He was the first Navy Senior Chief I met, so when I joined the Navy I expected all senior chiefs to be like him :). He was a great man, and I am forever grateful for his mentorship. I wish I did a better job of keeping in touch. Rest easy Senior, we have the watch!
