“ Uncle Harry was a source of inspiration to all of his family...His brothers and sisters knew him in a dffernce perspective than perhaps his nephews and neices..But one thing is for sure, we all loved him for who he was and what he stood for. I always stood a little taller and saluted a flag by knowing that Harry had served his country with all he had and then some. We will never know the stories that he kept to himself, and that he felt was for the best. We just accepted all that he shared with love and interest of such true tales..that he would share. I do recall writing to him while he was in VietNam and just eager to receive a note from him..while in college. I remember the young man from an early age of his driving the school bus, and I could stay on the bus....cause I was on the way to Grandma's house..and kinda knew what was in the pie safe.. He would come to the ball games when I was in high school and just enjoy the excitement of the Tigers...good years. Dot was always the love of his life...and his dog children. Lots of good memories and love. We thank you Harry, for the person that you represented to us, your faithfulness to God, and the love that you shared.

“ Uncle Harry was the hero of our family. I grew up with an appreciation of his Navy experiences and the stories of his time in Vietnam on the ground. He was the "James Bond" in the family, someone you could always look to for strength in adversity. I'll always cherish our times together, from him shooting a snuff can with his pistol, his experience in sighting in a rifle, riding in the sports car he had, admiring his love and training of animals, his love for Aunt Dot, his service to this nation, and his love for God and his fellow man and extended family. He's gone home now, but he will never be forgotten. We'll see him again one day.
