“ To be short and sweet Grandma meant Home. No matter where she and Grandpa lived she always made you feel at home. I will miss the tight hugs that she greeted you with and left you with, the telephone conversations, her cookin', her support and most of all her love. Love Always, Kirk###imported-begin##Kirk Stoffel###imported-end##

“ my sympathy to all of you, in the loss of your mother. she was a wonderful person,and will be missed by many. just remember the good times and the memories of her and your dad, that you shared. i am sure she is now an angel in heaven and will watch over each one of you. i always remember both of your parents by the smile,and the laughter they had when they would come to the chartroom to meet their friends . gloria kornbau###imported-begin##gloria kornbau###imported-end##

“ Helen and I were friends at first sight. I wandered across the street to watch Bill and Helem move into their new home, aptly assisted by their son and daughter-in-law. Helen and I stood in the middle of Willow Drive and just gabbed and gabbed. We had a long and happy friendship. We never lost touch until Bill Derr died. I only visited Helen in the nursing home a couple of times. She would have to struggle to remember who I am, and our history together. It seemed more distressing to her than if I left her alone. I thought of Helen often though, she was a good part of my life and I loved her very much. I pray Cheryl and Bill, and their loved ones, will find peace and closure with their mother's death.##imported-begin##karen d carpenter##imported-end##

“ Dear Family: I'm sorry to read about Helen's death. Since words can't erase the sorrow you are feeling now, I'd like to share a few scriptures that help me whenever I lose a loved one. John 5:28-29 promises there will be a resurrection, Psalms 37:29 tells us we will live forever here on earth and Rev. 21:4-5 promises there will be no more pain, sickness or death. These are all promises from our God in His Word, the Bible. I know that He didn't take any of my loved ones away from me and that He will reunite us again in the near future. These are all such wonderful things to look forward to. I hope you all receive the same comfort that I do from God. My heart goes out to you in your loss of you loved one. Sincerely, Dee Bishop###imported-begin##Dee Bishop###imported-end##
