“ My first job was at kully's Chevron station on E. Ridgewood Ave and Highland Ave. in Paramus, NJ. I learned so much from Hank Kully, such as how to fix a flat on the huge truck tires that came in. Hank could fix and build anything. He built his tow truck from an old pick-up truck. When he was elected Fire Chief he painted his 52 chevy red with a brush and put a siren on the front fender. Hank had a big heart and always had something to say to say about someone. He watched over Mrs. Bertleson who lived next to the Chevron station since she and her husband were very old residents of the area. he was friends with farmer Clause, who sold a portion of his farm to a developer for the new development we moved to in 1955. I loved going to work at Kully's because every day kully made it fun to cone to work, but if you screwed up Kully would straighten you out real quick. Hank I tried over the years to find you, I wanted to call and talk to you.
