May 21, 2007

Herbert Leland Carter, Jr. died Monday, May 21, 2007 at the N.E. and Ruby Green Hospice House in Georgetown, S.C. Born in Mayfield, Kentucky, on November 13, 1920, he was the youngest son of Herbert Leland and Kate Morris Carter. Herb was preceded in death by his parents, brother Morris, and his beloved wife Louise Vey Putnam Carter. He is survived by two daughters and their husbands, Patricia and Mickey Driver of Salisbury, N.C., and Pamela and Laurie McAlpine of Murrells Inlet, S.C.; five grandchildren, Jonathan, Andrew, and Leslie Driver, Katherine McAlpine Mooring and Anna McAlpine; and a great-granddaughter, Jessica Driver. His family also includes the thousands of students he mentored and taught as Director of Bands at East Carolina University in Greenville, N.C. Herb graduated from Murray State University where he began his career as a clarinetist and jazz musician. There he met and married Louise "Put" Putnam. During World War II he served in the United States Air Force as a woodwind specialist and conductor. After the war he earned a Master of Arts degree from Columbia University and continued study at the Julliard School of Music in New York. In 1946 Herb and Put moved to Greenville, N.C. where he established a band program at East Carolina University. During his tenure he was a dynamic partner in the growth of the School of Music, serving as Director of Bands and chair of the Instrumental Music Department. He established the first jazz band, "The Collegians," directed summer music camps and state high school band clinics, served as adjudicator for music festivals across the country, and recruited many musicians to ECU. Herb's Symphonic Wind Ensemble performed at meetings of the College Band Director's National Association and the Music Educator's National Conference. Under his direction, the wind ensemble premiered original works by such noted composers as Gould, Giannini, Dello Joio, and Persichetti. Herb served as president of the College Band Directors National Association, president of the North Carolina Bandmasters Association, and Province Governor of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia Fraternity. He is also a member of the American Bandmasters Association. He was selected as one of the ten most outstanding music directors in the United States by the School Musician Magazine and received the Citation of Excellence by the National Band Association. After his retirement in 1987 Herb and Put continued to be active in the university and community. They served as tutors, volunteered for Meals on Wheels, and were active members of St. Paul's Episcopal Church. They loved to play golf both in Greenville and in the North Carolina mountains where they spent their summers. Herb was a loving husband, father and grandfather. He fought a long and determined battle with Alzheimer's disease and was a true gentleman through it all. A memorial service and celebration of Herb's life will be held at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Greenville, N.C., on June 15 at 11 AM. In lieu of flowers, the family requests that memorials be made to the Herbert L. and Louise P. Carter Collegians Music Scholarship at East Carolina University School of Music, A.J. Fletcher Music Center, Greenville, N.C. 27858, and to Tideland's Community Hospice, 2591 North Fraser Street, Georgetown, S.C. 29440.

“ Herb Carter was an icon to be respected and admired. I was privileged to play flute in his Wind Ensemble at ECU in the early-mid 1980's. It was always an intense experience which motivated me to always play my best. I have many fond memories to remember Mr. Carter by. The world has lost a musician of the first order. My sympathies go out to his family. Hail Sinfonia.##imported-begin##Jonathan Sills##imported-end##

“ Herb welcomed me and all of his daughter Pam's friends warmly and with genuine interest. He always engaged us with comments or observations. He was as expert at relating to people. I always felt like I learned something after every visit. Sharing food was a big part of his hospitality. Put was the head chef but Herb was in charge of the grill. My memories of the Carter household always have a smile attached. My sympathies to the family.##imported-begin##Eric A. Vernon##imported-end##

“ Like hundreds of other public school and college band directors, I attribute so much of my professional success and happiness to the lessons I learned from Herb Carter in the ECU Wind Ensemble. For over 25 years, my high school and college wind ensembles have performed music that I learned under Mr. Carter's baton at ECU in the 1970s, and I was proud to tell my students about Mr. Carter and his tremendous legacy. I thank God for Herb Carter's contributions to music education and for a life well lived.###imported-begin###David Rockefeller###imported-end###

“ We were neighbors on Beaumont Drive in Greenville, NC. Herb taught our son Joseph clarinet and Put taught all three of our children piano. They were both very special to us. We are deeply saddened to learn of Herb's passing. I still have the bread starter that Put asked me to keep for her one summer while they were in the mountains. We always think of the Carters when we have sour dough bread. Our prayers are with you at this difficult time. “ Your parents were so special to the ECU music family. Your father meant so much to me and taught me so much in the four years I was in his wind ensemble. My success as a band director was linked directly to what he gave me through his special gifts. I will always carry him in my heart.##imported-begin##Camp Price##imported-end##
