“ The saddness I feel for you at this time cannot be expressed. We have all lost loved ones in death and it is very difficult. Reliance on God has helped me get through moments such as these. Much comfort can be found from God's word the bible. It is encouraging to know that according to Isaiah 33:24, there will be a time when no resident will say I am sick. I was helped to appreciated that it was never God's purpose for us to pass away in death because the scriptures at Psalms 37:29; Isaiah 45:18; and Gen. 1:28 tells of how he desires for man to possess the earth forever. This is why he has a wonderful provision in store for us by means of the resurrection discussed at John 5:28,29 and Acts 24:15 for all those in their memorial tombs. Would you not agree that this prospect is comforting? The possibilty of being reunited with our loved ones sleeping in death really provides me with hope. All of these things will be made possible by God Kingdom government mentioned at Daniel 2:44. It will be by this kingdom that man can enjoy life the way God wanted us to. May you be encouraged by these words and gain strength, the way I have and know that with God all things are possible because it is impossible for him to lie Titus 1:2.##imported-begin##Freda##imported-end##
