“ Howard’s parents were close friends of my parents. We vacationed together a couple of times and I would see Howard around the beach. I smile as I think about those days. Thinking about the fun times in the sixties!

“ I am the youngest of Harriet and Hub Stackhouse’s children, but I do remember how kind Howard always was to the shy, scrawny little kid who would visit their family home in Conway. I also answered the phone at my parents home when he called when he got the news my mother had passed away. The kindness, vulnerability, and true sorrow in his voice showed how much he loved her too, and that comforted me at a very difficult time. I’ll always be grateful for that. So sorry for your loss and hope, with time, the wonderful memories of him will replace your pain.

I have so many fond memories of the Smith family. We lived next door so there were many interactions. Mother said we were even distant cousins. My heart goes out to you all.

“ Howard was the president of the largest accounting firm in Myrtle Beach, where I practiced law, and over 40 years ago we became close friends. We worked together professionally many times. He was a tax expert, he knew many of the important business leaders in our area, and I learned a lot from him over the years. He became one of my clients, and we shared a passion for hunting, fishing and travel. Several of his friends became my friends, and several of my friends became his friends. He got me into deer hunting, and I got him into fly fishing for trout. We purchased and shared a lot at Woodbury hunting club, where we each kept a trailer when our boys were young, and we traveled widely together many times until his health deteriorated, because of the residual effects of agent orange in Vietnam, to the point that he could no longer take the chance of leaving the country. He was an important part of my life, both professionally and personally. He was a fine man, I was blessed to have known him, and I will miss him. My prayers are with Joann and his family. I have attached a few photos.
