“ My Grandma was the best they ever came. Just thinking of her always made me smile and my heart fill with love. Every time I saw her she would wrap her arms around me in joy while making sounds of continued surprise for how tall I had become, even into my late 20's! When I was a little girl and it was time to leave her home in South Carolina and return to Maryland, she would spray my pillow with her perfume so I would feel as though she was still with me. She is still with me today but I will miss her here. She was a wonderful Grandma and woman. I only hope to be as good, caring, passionate, and dependable as she has been to me, my family and all the lives she has touched over the years. I will always remember my Grandma and I know you will too.
