

Jacinto Reynaldo Agudo

October 8, 1954 - October 3, 2020

Loris...

Jack Agudo, age 65, passed away Saturday, October 2, 2020 after a 7 year battle with cancer.

Jack was born in Cuba, and brought to the states when he was a child. He is an amazing story of an immigrant who lived in an orphanage and a foster home, separated from his family and achieved citizenship in 1983.

He married his loving wife, Sharon, in 1981 and became the best father to her children they could have wished for. He raised his family in New Jersey, where he worked for Hess Oil company as a foreman until his retirement in 2013.

Jack loved to boat, fish, golf, visit casinos and spend time as a great neighbor and friend to those in his community.

Jack is survived by his children, Tammy Rounsavell and Todd Demler, and their families who love and cherish him and his memories.

Jack was devoted to his wife until her passing in 2018. He loved life and everything it offered, even during his battle with cancer. He never complained, never willing to impose, and lived life on his terms. He was a gifted father, husband, and friend who was there for anyone and everyone who needed him. He liked to mind his own business and only offered his wisdom and experience of life with those that requested it.

Jack will be missed and the world will be a sadder place without his smile. He was one of the good ones, a significantly better human being than most, and his zest for life was unmatched. The toughest son of a gun his family has ever known.

Tribute Wall

MS

“ My condolences to Jack's family on their loss. I will miss him terribly. He was a "walking miracle" by God's good grace during his battle with cancer.

Marilyn Schmidt - October 07, 2020 at 06:42 PM

JD

The strong effort Jack put into his work life he used to fight that does ease for so long . Let's remember Jack when we use his courage and strength to resist our troubles.

jeff depew - October 15, 2020 at 02:04 PM